Dance Dress Code

A dress code helps the dancer understand that they are going to a structured class, compared to an unstructured playtime. It allows dancers to participate in classes without distractions and helps create a focused and safe environment. Dress codes also allow the teachers to more accurately assess the dancer's form and technique. It gives teachers visibility, which helps them make accurate corrections. Wearing the same clothing helps nurture equity amongst dancers and creates a non-competitive space.

For more information on the dress codes, read the Registration Confirmation portion of your receipt.

Dress codes are in effect for the following disciplines:

- Preschool Dance
- Dance Combo
- Acrobatics
- Ballet
- Contemporary Dance
- Hip Hop
- K-Pop
- Jazz
- Musical Theatre
- Heels Dance
- Dance Fitness classes including Ballet Fitness, Jazz Fitness and Latin Funk

DANCE AND PERFORMING ARTS INTENSIVE PROGRAMS

Intensive programs at the Richmond Arts Centre are tailored to provide dedicated dancers and performers with an immersive and enriching experience. These programs are tailored to help students progress alongside peers of similar skill. To ensure an optimal learning environment, a pre-requisite of at least three programming seasons in the chosen dance discipline or a minimum of one year of dedicated training is required.

The Richmond Arts Centre staff reaches out to current students recommended for these program options. Email our staff at artscentre@richmond.ca for guidance and to confirm if this program suits your child's skill level.

It's important to note that dance teachers will use their discretion to determine if a child meets the necessary skill level for the program.

Intensive course offered are:
