

Name:		Phone:
Email:
Address:
School:		Birth date:
Academic Achievement: <input type="checkbox"/> <50% <input type="checkbox"/> 50%-75% <input type="checkbox"/> 75%-100%
Extracurricular Activities:
Media Arts Interests:
<input type="checkbox"/> Broadcasting / Journalism		<input type="checkbox"/> Digital art and graphic novels
<input type="checkbox"/> Audio recording and editing		<input type="checkbox"/> Animation / Claymation
<input type="checkbox"/> Video production / Acting		<input type="checkbox"/> Web design and applications
Youth background history:
Who does the youth live with?
Is the youth accessing any other agencies?
Medical information:
Referee name and phone number:		Referral date:

The information on this form is confidential. The observations noted here are used to establish a baseline of behaviours to guide clients towards asset building opportunities within a media arts environment; this is not a clinical assessment.

Richmond Youth Media Program (RYMP)

What is it?

A free multimedia program for youth (13–24 years) that includes drop-in sessions where supervised youth work independently, and team projects where youth work together.

What do youth do?

Youth in the program have been working on: audio recording, photography, podcasting, film and music production, DJing, and 3D printing, graphic design and more.

Current schedule:

Tuesdays: 4:00–6:00pm

Thursdays: 4:00–6:00pm

Saturdays: 12:00–4:00pm

How do you get involved?

Anyone can refer youth to the Richmond Youth Media Program, including youth themselves. Fill out the referral form and contact Mia Mascarina or Omar Rajan to join the program. Call 604-247-8303, email medialab@richmond.ca or drop off a completed referral form to the Richmond Cultural Centre front desk.

More information is available at richmond.ca/medialab.

The Richmond Youth Media Program is a partnership between the City of Richmond and Richmond Addiction Services Society (RASS), supported by the Vancouver Coastal Health Sharon Martin Community Health (SMART) Fund.