How to Build a Skateboard

Art exhibition celebrates hope and forward motion

A new exhibition at the Richmond City Hall Galleria highlights the work of local artist John D. Rosenthal. 'How to Build a Skateboard' features a selection of paintings on various sized skateboards and longboards. Galleria goers may recognize scenes of familiar places from around Richmond and Steveston as they take-in the exhibition.

Rosenthal paints images from his community on objects associated with forward motion as a way of highlighting his optimism and belief in progress. "There is nowhere we cannot go," notes the artist. "May we live in hope so that others may also find hope."

The exhibition is organized by the Richmond Art Gallery.

Steveston Farmers and Artisans Market, Kwantlen St. Farmers Market and Hamilton Pop Up Market

Shop local, shop fresh

One of the best summer activities is back - farmers markets! Shop local for fresh produce and crafted quality goods at Richmond's two markets.

Steveston Farmers and Artisans Market \(SFAM\)

Located next to the Steveston Community Centre at 4111 Moncton Street, the Steveston Farmers & Artisans Market is open Sundays, 10:30am to 3:30pm: July 3 and 17; August 7 and 21; September 4 and 18.

Enjoy lively entertainment, fresh produce and unique products offered in a festive, open-air environment. The Steveston Farmers & Artisans Market is a non-profit operation run by a volunteer committee. All monies raised support activities and projects of the Steveston Community Centre.

Kwantlen St. Farmers Market

The Market is open Tuesdays, 12:00 to 4:00pm at Brighthouse Park, 7000 Minoru Boulevard until November 8.

The Kwantlen St. Farmers Market offers all the goodness of a farmers market, artisan foods and crafts and the freshest local produce in one location! Enjoy an incredible rotating selection of products grown and crafted by local farmers and artisans.

Hamilton Pop-Up Market

Hamilton Community Centre will partner with Urban Bounty (formerly known as Richmond Food Security Society) to launch a weekly pop-up market. Purchase low-cost, fresh fruits and vegetables from local suppliers.

The Pop-Up Market will be located at the Hamilton Community Centre at 5140 Smith Dr. Open 10:00am-1:00pm from July 9 to November 19.
