Media protocol

At the voting place

- Please check in with the Presiding Election Official and identify yourself as a media representative. You will have to sign a secrecy declaration.
- No interviews or loitering are allowed inside the voting place.
- If a photo or video recording must be taken, it can be taken from the doorsteps of the voting place. Please do not disturb voters, staff, and scrutineers. Individuals in the voting place should not be identifiable.
- Do not compromise the election process or the secrecy of the ballot. Please do not take photos of the voting machines, or speak to voters, scrutineers, or election officials about the candidates, elector organizations, or election issues.

Outside of the voting place

- “Exit interviews” or interviews as voters exit the voting place must not take place where other voters can hear the conversation.
- Do not ask about whom voters will vote for, or will be voting for outside of the voting place within earshot of other voters which could potentially influence their vote.
- Candidates may not campaign at a voting place, or within 100 metres of a voting place. Media interviews of candidates must be conducted more than 100 metres away from a voting place, or it will be considered as election advertising which is prohibited.

On Election Night

- A Media Advisory with more details about General Voting Day media protocol and election night proceedings will be provided shortly before General Voting Day on October 15, 2022.
