by Aaron Friend Lettner

February to October 2023

Learn about ecology, climate adaptation and changing weather patterns at Terra Nova Rural Park at free photography-based workshops and events for young learners and other community members.

Aaron Friend Lettner is a Vancouver-based photographer, artist, bookmaker and instructor. Through hands-on, arts-based projects, he demonstrates how a well-told story can house the most precious kinds of knowing, and build capacity for true learning, imagination and wonder.

"This project is inspired by my experiences living on a community farm in the Fraser Valley, where I apprenticed for a medicinal herb and seed grower. It was there that I first heard the voices of plants, which completely altered my understanding of the world. This project is born out of these experiences and is undertaken with an honest love, and reverence for, plants—the great teachers."
